Hero Pilot Dies Saving 50 Lives

NEW YORK (UPI) — The terrifying crash of metal ripping away metal touched off 10 minutes of hell in the pathing dusk high above heavily populated southern Connecticut.

It began a chronicle of courage and steel-nerved skill by a crack airline pilot who lived to fly as much as he found pleasure in treading along the lapping surf of the Connecticut coast. His heroics—and the miracle he wrought—were still being praised today. He did not live to receive the honors.

Capt. Charles J. (Chuck) White was in sight of the familiar coastline Saturday evening when his Boston-Newark Eastern Air Lines Constellation was jarred by a collision at 10,000 feet with a TWA World Airlines Boeing 707 jet. The Constellation's tail assembly was torn away, leaving White with only his throttle controls. For practical purposes, the aircraft was stripped of its maneuverability.

Swoops To Impact
But White, gunning and swooping his crippled four-propeller aircraft purposefully over treetops, made every second of the 10 tense minutes count — for the lives of 50 of the 51 persons aboard.

The lumbering Connie brushed the rooftops of a barn and a silo, made a final but futile upward thrust, then pancaked onto 1,000-foot Hunt Mountain in a remote section of North Salem, N.Y., near the New York-Connecticut border.

Two persons were killed in the crash and two passengers died later in hospitals. The jet landed safely.

The Constellation cracked open upon impact like a newly hatched egg, then erupted into searing flames.

The TWA jet later carrying 58 persons, landed safely, although it was short of a large section of wing.

Capt. White was one of the two persons who failed to escape the blazing Constellation's fuselage. Rescuers found his charred body in the passenger section, about three feet from the pilot's compartment bulkhead.

Eastern officials said White apparently was the last man to try to leave the shattered aircraft after seeing that all others were safely evacuated.

Trapped in Blast
His luck ran out just by a matter of seconds. Airline spokesmen theorized White perished in a secondary flash fire or explosion as he attempted to shove open an escape door.

Besides White, the victims were identified as Dr. Joseph M. Wilkinson Jr., 48, director of research at Interchemical Corp. in New York and a resident of Summit, N.J.; Dennis Flucker of Hoboken, N.J. and Lois Thibodeau of Gloucester, Mass. Three survivors were hospitalized in critical condition. Other passengers and crew members were also hospitalized but were expected to live.

While plans were being made for White's burial in Arlington National Cemetery, Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) investigators sought to pinpoint the cause of the collision. They took time out to praise White, 42, of Rye, N.Y., the father of three children, and the TWA jet pilot, Capt. Thomas H. Carroll, 35, for their skill and heroism.

The San Francisco-New York jetliner limped safely into Kennedy Airport with 20 feet of its left wing gone. The only casualty among 58 persons aboard was a stewardess who sustained a bloody nose.

De Gaulle Fails To Win Majority Vote In France

Pope Will Lift Church Rules On Friday Fast

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Paul VI has prepared a Papal Bull permitting Catholics to eat meat on Fridays, it was reliably reported today. High-level Vatican sources said the pontiff will issue the decree Tuesday at a public session of the Ecumenical Council.

Informants told UPI the decree lifts major fast and abstinence rules for all Catholics except monks, nuns and other members of religious orders. But the rules will still be maintained for Good Friday, the Christmas vigil and one other major feast day, probably that of the Immaculate Conception on Dec. 8.

Abstention from meat on Fridays and some other holidays, a practice dating from the earliest centuries of the church, was always considered a man-made rule rather than a law.

But it was binding on all Catholics. Abstention and fasting on days appointed by the church is the second of six "precepts of the church" which must be observed by Catholics under pain of sin.

Under present law, abstinence is compulsory for all persons above seven years of age on all Fridays, Ash Wednesday, Holy Saturday and the vigils of the Immaculate Conception and Christmas.

Council sources did not say how the papal decree would affect the law of fast—distinct from abstinence—under which Catholics can eat only one full meal during Lent, Ember days and the Vigils of Pentecost, the Immaculate Conception and Christmas.

The change in the abstinence rules had been rumored for some time. Early last month, Pope Paul asked the National Episcopal hierarchies of various nations to report to the council on how their members felt about a possible change.

Agencies Tangle On Voting Rights

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Attorney Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach and the U.S. Civil Rights Commission are at odds over whether the Justice Department is dragging its feet in implementing the historic voting rights act.

In a report made public during the weekend, the commission, an independent agency which advises and informs the president and Congress, suggested that Katzenbach and the Justice Department are moving too slowly under the act.

Katzenbach replied sharply, branding the commission's allegation as "neither literally correct nor cognizant of the requirements of enforcing the act."

Detroit Police Unveil Bizarre Juvenile Klan

DETROIT (UPI) — Police have released details of a bizarre juvenile version of the Ku Klux Klan in which teen-agers with pillow case hoods strangled cats, burned garages and vowed to "obey the Imperial Wizard if he is right."

Seven young boys with middle class backgrounds, including the 15-year-old "Imperial Wizard" of the strange fraternity, have been arrested, police said Sunday.

Freed On Bond
The charges against the youngsters ranged from armed robbery to cruelty to animals. Police said the boys were jailed Nov. 4 but the story was not released because officers felt the publicity might hinder the investigation. All the boys have now been released on bond but no trial has been set.

Membership requirements for the young hate group demanded each candidate commit a major crime, slash his left wrist as a sign of valor and swear to abide by bylaws.

A copy of the bylaws, scrawled in the 15-year-olds' hand, reads:
"We will always try to be together when we do stuff. We will always split up our stuff equally. We will always wear our hoods when we do stuff and at our meetings."
"We will always vote on whether or not we will do something."

Based On Hate
"Every month we will burn a garage. We will obey the Imperial Wizard if he is right."
While the group was based on hate, it was not primarily anti-Negro. The bylaws mentioned "Jews, Negroes and frats" as the objects of hatred, but the acts of violence did not follow those guidelines.

A "frat" in their jargon is one who dresses neatly and conforms to accepted patterns. Police first began to suspect an arson gang in mid-October when a series of garages were burned to the ground for no apparent reason.

At the same time, a number of minor burglaries of businesses were reported and several newsboys were strong-armed and robbed.

Police said a number of instances of cats being hanged on clothes lines and in parked autos were also reported.

Aging Leader Is Rebuffed, Faces Runoff

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles De Gaulle, humiliated in an election setback which damaged his prestige at home and abroad, was in seclusion today at his country home. France was left guessing whether he would consent to a runoff Dec. 19.

Most Gaullist officials expected the 75-year-old president to again face the electorate, which Sunday gave him only 44.30 per cent of the vote in a seven-man race.

Leftist Francois Mitterrand, 49, backed by the Communists, Socialists, a section of the Radical Party and other splinter left wing groups, rolled up what was considered a sensational 32.04 per cent. A minimum of 50 per cent was needed to win on the first ballot.

De Gaulle, who made only two campaign speeches, had warned the 28.4 million registered voters that the future of France was at stake in the election. He asked for a sweeping mandate to continue his go-it-alone foreign policy.

Observers said it appeared the French voter rebuffed De Gaulle over his chilly relations with the United States and some of his European neighbors, particularly Britain.

The latest Interior Ministry count gave De Gaulle 10,676,283 votes to 7,677,396 for Mitterrand. Final results were to be announced at midnight.

The next closest candidate was Jean Lecanuet, 45, of the Catholic-Centrist party with 3,778,655 votes.

De Gaulle and his wife, Yvonne, waited out the results at their country home at Colombey-les-deux-Eglises. The president issued no statement and was not expected to be back in Paris before Tuesday.

Three On Trial For Killing Of Boston Pastor

SELMA, Ala. (UPI) — Three white men charged with the fatal beating of a white civil rights worker will go on trial here Tuesday. Last week similar trials resulted in milestone guilty verdicts.

The three are charged with the fatal beating of the Rev. James Reeb, Boston Unitarian minister, on a Selma street shortly before last spring's Selma to Montgomery civil rights march.

Last Thursday, in Anniston, Ala., Hubert Damon Strange, 25, was convicted of the night rider slaying of Willie Brewster, a Negro, and sentenced to a 10-year prison term for manslaughter. Friday, in Montgomery, a federal jury found three Ku Klux Klansmen guilty of violating the civil rights of a white woman participating in the Selma to Montgomery march. Reeb was beaten as he left a store on March 9. He died later in a Birmingham hospital. Charged with his murder are Odell Hoggie, 30, a mechanic; his brother William Stanley Hoggie, 36, a salesman, and Elmer Cook, 41, the manager of a novelty company.

Circuit Solicitor Blanchard McLeod said witnesses for the prosecution will include the Rev. Clark Olson, of Berkeley, Calif., and the Rev. Olaf Miller, a Massachusetts associate of Reeb. Both men witnessed the fatal beating.

Father Kills 3 With Hammer

LANSING (UPI) — A county prosecutor said Sunday mental examinations would be ordered against a Lansing father being held for questioning in connection with the balpeen hammer-slaying of his wife and two children.

The mother, Joanne Marie Basinger, 25, and son, Dennis, 2, were killed outright by a balpeen hammer Saturday afternoon. The second child, Charmaine, 7, died late Saturday night in a hospital where she had been taken in critical condition.

The father, Donald Wayne Basinger, 33, was treated at a Lansing hospital for what authorities said were self-inflicted wounds and then taken into custody.

Ingham County Prosecutor Donald L. Reisig said Sunday he planned to initiate mental examinations for Basinger, as well as carrying out criminal proceedings.

The couple's two other children were outside playing at the time of the attack. The family dog also was beaten to death.

Algonac Village To Become City

ALGONAC (UPI) — The village of Algonac voted Saturday to change from a village to a home rule city.

The vote was 200 to 132 in favor of the change. The citizens voted the same change in 1959 but their charter for incorporation was rejected in January 1961.

A nine-member charter commission also was chosen at the election.

Traffic Mishaps Take 26 Lives

By United Press International
Two accidents within a few hours and miles of each other Sunday in Sterling Township of Macomb County claimed five lives and helped boost the traffic toll in Michigan for the weekend to 26.

Three persons died Sunday when a truck plowed into an auto at the intersection of Ryan Road and 16 Mile Road in Sterling Township.

State police identified the victims, all passengers in a car driven by Paul Chittl, 23, Marine City, as Chittl, David Carr, 33, and Nelson Carr, 8½ months. The Carrs were also of Marine City.

Just a few hours later two children identified as Gerald Winters, 8, Madison Heights, and his six-year-old brother Michael were killed at 18 Mile Road and Van Dyke.

They were passengers in a car with their parents which was struck by another auto. A third auto then rammed in the wreckage. A total of 11 persons were injured.

Bunnies Ignored

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Bunnies at New York's Playboy Club played second fiddle to pussycats Sunday night.

Some 350 members and friends of the Save A Cat League, Inc., took over two rooms at the club for a fund raising dinner. The male members of the group, which is against violence toward cats, hardly gave the Bunnies a second glance.

Gemini 6 May Go Up Day Early

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — Launch crews put the Gemini 6 rocket and spaceship through an around-the-clock series of tests today to meet or better its Dec. 13 appointment in space with Gemini 7.

Things were going so well for the second half of the Gemini doubleheader that officials were discussing the possibility of shooting astronauts Walter Schirra and Thomas Stafford after their Gemini 7 comrades' day early.

Project officials were maintaining a wait and see attitude, however, before committing themselves to a Gemini 6 launch only eight, instead of nine, days after the blastoff of Gemini 7 last Saturday.

"It's still too early in the game to predict an eighth day launch," said an Air Force spokesman.

The first real clue to the pace of preparations will come when the spacecraft is electrically hooked up to the Titan 2 rocket. The electrical "mating" is scheduled for midnight, but engineers hope to accomplish it sooner.

Gemini Flight Director Christopher Kraft Jr. noted that preparations were about four to six hours ahead of scheduled Sunday. He said engineers already were looking into the possibility of a launch only eight days after Gemini 7's.

The firing of Gemini 7 after the cancelled launch attempt of Gemini 6 Oct. 25 was the fastest space shot "turnaround" yet made in the U.S. Manned Spaceflight Program.

Gemini 6's second attempt is reducing those six weeks of launch preparations to nine days in an effort to score the world's first closeup rendezvous with another orbiting spacecraft.

(UPI) — The Gemini 7 astronauts slept simultaneously for the first time in American space history today in preparation for a long 11 more days in orbit and a rendezvous attempt whose prospects were brightening by the hour.

Only minor hitches in some of their experiments had marred this scheduled 14-day flight as Frank Gorman and James Lovell flashed into their third day in orbit following a letter-perfect launch from Cape Kennedy.

They had clearance for a least 30 of the 206 orbits they hope to fly. Officials said the

Soviet Craft Races To Soft Moon Landing

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Russian spaceship Luna 8 raced toward the moon today for an intended soft landing shortly after midnight Moscow time (4:50 p.m. EST).

It is the fourth Soviet attempt to place a package of instruments on the lunar surface and pave the way for a manned flight to the moon.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, announced the anticipated landing time Sunday night and said Luna 8 would hit the moon in the area of the Sea of Storms.

Tass gave few details, but it appeared that Luna 8 was equipped with cameras and other instruments designed to survey the lunar landscape, determine its characteristics and record the temperature.

A successful soft touchdown would give the Russians a lead in the race to get a man on the moon.

The Sea of Storms is the same spot where the abortive Luna 7 crash-landed Oct. 8.

Alcohol Test Flunker Jailed

GRAND HAVEN (UPI) — Obliging State Police took Amos Jones, 22, Holland, to a local hospital early Sunday when he stomped into the station and demanded a blood alcohol test to prove to his wife and in-laws that he wasn't drunk.

Jones flunked the test and was jailed on drunk and disorderly charges.

Bank Aids Santa With Dolls

The talents and skills of 72 Arkens, Bark River, Character, participants in First National Bank of Escanaba's annual Dress-A-Doll contest went on display in the bank lobby today.

The winners are: Grand Prize: Mrs. John Pearson, Rte. 1, Escanaba; and in categories of dress with top winners first: Fancy: Joanne Gucky, Rte. 1, Escanaba, and Mrs. Pauline Dumas, 1620 8th Ave. S.; Sensible: Mrs. Ronald Miller, 3331 8th Ave. S., and Carol Jean the program that brings colorfully dressed dolls to needy children in the area at Christmas time. During the years the bank has provided this service, more than 400 dolls have been given to area youngsters. Since the dolls were distributed in September, "fingers have been flying" as participants exerted their imagination, their creative talents and sewing craftsmanship to compete for honors in the contest. Now the results of this effort are on display for the public to inspect and enjoy.

All the entries have been judged and ribbons adorn the winners in seven categories. A grand prize doll has also been selected. Every doll is on display with the name of its donor.

Former Escanaba Woman Winner Of New Automobile

Mrs. Klaus Steinhagen of 518 E. Chicago St., Elgin, Ill., formerly of Escanaba, visited relatives here Saturday — driving a new automobile she won in a Santa's Sweepstakes contest.

She is the former Ruth Rockstad of Escanaba and is the daughter of Mrs. Jerome Shelp, Escanaba Rte. 1.

The Steinhagens have lived in Elgin for several months. Mr. Steinhagen was recently discharged from military service.

Dirk Van Duzee To Address Jr. Achievers Here

Members of Escanaba Junior Achievement, meeting tonight in JA headquarters, will hear a talk on sales techniques by Dirk Van Duzee, Appleton, a sales representative of the DeVilbiss Paint Co.

Van Duzee is the first of several speakers from business and industry who will address the Junior Achievers in connection with phases of business operation. He will be introduced by Dennis Willey, Harrisburg Corp., one of the Escanaba JA advisers.

Dwayne Burak, Escanaba JA program director, said that because the element of sales is so important to the success of any enterprise, particular emphasis will be placed on the phase of training for the young JA members.

JA has three companies organized and operating here, composed of 50 young men and women in each company. They are students of Escanaba Area High School and Holy Name High School.

Ensign Man Hurt In Auto Mishap

Milton Erickson, 28, of Rte. 1, Ensign, was reported in "good" condition today at St. Francis Hospital after his car ran off U.S. 2 and slammed into the Whitefish River Bridge abutment.

State Police said Erickson, who was alone in his car, was east bound on U.S. 2 at 10:15 p.m. when he skidded on icy pavement and ran off the road.

Malloy, Hytinen Join Troopers

EAST LANSING—Two area men were among 27 State Police recruits who became probationary troopers in a graduation ceremony Friday at Kellogg Center, Michigan State University.

They are Gerald G. Hytinen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hytinen, Rte. 1, Rapid River, and Michael D. Malloy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ulysses J. Malloy, 239 Arbutus Ave., Manistique.

Other new troopers from the Upper Peninsula are Arthur H. Anderson, Hubbell; Robert J. Heikkila, Calumet; Carl E. Hendrickson, Ishpeming; Donald R. Martinson, Crystal Falls; and Allen J. Sebrechts, Norway.

Hytinen was assigned to the Ypsilanti Post and Malloy to Ithaca.

The graduation of the new recruits brought the State Police enlisted strength to 1,261.

Gov. George Romney gave the principal address at the exercises. A feature of the program was the presentation of a bravery award to Trooper Charles G. Feldhauser, 36, of Marquette by Col. Frederick E. Davids, State Police director.

Feldhauser earned the award for his capture of a knife-wielding escaped convict in September at Negaunee.

Teachers Ask Recognition

Teacher representatives from 22 school districts in the Upper Peninsula met at Ishpeming Saturday to discuss negotiations under the new Michigan Public Employees Act. Kai Erickson of the MEA Headquarters staff discussed the legal implications of the new law and the legal rights and responsibilities now available to Michigan teachers.

The Michigan legislature last year passed legislation requiring public employers to recognize and negotiate with their employees when requested. The law will apply to all fields of public employment in townships, counties, cities, school districts and other political units.

"This law is viewed by MEA as a significant step in achieving substantial and enduring professional teaching services for Michigan children. It provides for good communication between local professional teaching staffs and the elected board of education in each community. The law also provides that when agreements are reached they shall be reduced to writing so we can envision in the near future, formal written contracts between the local education association and the community in areas of salaries, teaching and learning conditions," said Erickson.

Arnold Korpi, MEA representative for the U.P., indicated 25 communities had already extended formal recognition to their teaching staffs and most other communities will soon take this action upon teacher request. These 25 communities represent approximately 50 per cent of the teachers in the U.P.

Erickson said 203 school districts have extended recognition to their teaching staffs throughout Michigan since Aug. 25.

Attending the meeting from Escanaba were Douglas McEachern, Irwin Slade, Elvora Vader and Marian Oliver.

It is estimated that some 40 million people participated in recreational boating this year.

Deer Hunt Was Hot In Spots

A lot of people are grumbling over the 1965 deer season in the Upper Peninsula, but there also are plenty who are mightily pleased with their luck.

Take Marquette's Halvorsen family, for instance. They wound up with enough venison to feed an Indian tribe while hunting at the family camp near Faithorn in northern Menominee County.

Theodore Halvorsen Sr., 303 W. College Ave., downed an eight-point buck. His son, Theodore Jr., 2100 Longyear Ave., shot a four-point buck, and the latter's wife, Cleo, dropped a spikehorn. Their son (Theodore Halvorsen Sr.'s grandson), Edward, 14, scored his first deer kill, a three-point buck.

Paul Halvorsen bagged a spikehorn and Ed Halvorsen filled his antlerless deer license. They are brothers and are cousins of Theodore Halvorsen Jr. Both are from Stephenson.

Wilfred Johnson, another first cousin of Theodore Halvorsen Jr., shot a three-point buck, and his brother, Richard, filled his doe license. The Johnsons are from Chicago.

Thorloff Halvorsen of Stephenson, another cousin, also bagged a doe.

Then Ed Halvorsen, also of Stephenson, a brother of Theodore Halvorsen Sr., shot a doe. If you've had a hard time following that herd of deer through the Halvorsen family tree, just think how it would be if the only other two hunters in the camp — both of them women — had filled their licenses!

Elsewhere in Menominee

County, the Broberg camp west of Mary Lake in Lake Township toted up a kill that included 10 bucks, a doe, a coyote and a raccoon for the 12 hunters in the camp.

Another hunting success story emanated from the camp near Princeton of Joseph Roberto of Gwinn. Nine of the 10 hunters in that camp party bagged deer.

Jerry and Terry Weigold, 18-year-old twin brothers who reside on Fair Ave. in Marquette, didn't bag any deer, but each brought back a bear while hunting in the Big Bay area.

Escanaba Port Outlook Good If It's Developed

Escanaba eased its industrial growth prospects and found them good at a luncheon conference of development experts called at the House of Ludington Thursday by City Manager George Harvey.

There was counsel from the developers on how the city and the area might move more strongly to increase its industrial base and a report from Gust Asp, president of the Escanaba Foundation, the city's industrial development agency, that it had made commitments of $80,000 in recent months to help local industries expand.

Also among the conferees were William A. Kluender, Chicago, Chicago & North Western Railway resource development director; Harvey Buchholz, Milwaukee, C&NW industrial developer; Duane Underwood, Escanaba, C&NW district sales agent; Kenneth Taylor, Detroit, Michigan Bell Telephone Co., industrial developer; and Robert Gage, Detroit, Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. industrial developer.

Plans For Port

Kluender said that Escanaba was very important to the North Western in its plans for the changing pattern of iron industry in the Lake Superior region.

"Five years ago we didn't have a boat out after Nov. 27 or 28 and this year the last boat will be on Dec. 18. We'd haul ore as long as the fleet would haul it because the traffic in this commodity has changed. We're moving about 6 million tons worth $90 million here this year and about half of it is pelletized ore."

"Expansion is tripling the production of the Empire Mine, the Pioneer Mine pelletizing plant went into operation this year and there are plans in the hopper for other expansions. Whether this ore will come through Escanaba depends upon what relation the port has to the industry. Escanaba has one of the best harbors on the Great Lakes and one of the longest shipping seasons—2 or 3 weeks after Marquette and a month after Duluth."

Extend Season

"The ship captains like Escanaba and if we extend the shipping season it means a million tons and $15 million in ore added for every month. A year ago we started diverting ore from Lake Superior to Lake Michigan (from Ashland to Escanaba) and in 1964 we diverted 1.4 million tons. This year we lost 1.3 million tons (of Gogebic Range production) but the traffic is down less than a half million tons in Escanaba."

"The picture has changed. Vessels are coming in here that didn't used to and some are being fueled and provisioned here, although the servicing is not all that it should be. Captains tell me they can't get deckhands here; it is a service that should be supplied."

"What is the condition of your turning basin. Is it like Marquette's with only 21 feet of draft? Largely your industry up here is based on raw materials. You people have got to be able to put on a good image to attract industry. The iron ore trade doesn't have to be here forever; there's iron everywhere."

Mesabi Gains

"On the Mesabi Range in Minnesota which they thought was dying a few years ago there's a half billion dollars of mining plant development going on. The affect in Duluth is fantastic. What you do here in Escanaba (in ore handling)—how well you can service it—is going to determine what is done in the hinterland."

"In two or three years the complexion of the product is going to change and its new form will conform to year-around movement. You'll probably have to compete (for port business) with all-rail movement, and your shipments can't all be to Chicago. Sixty per cent of the ore from Escanaba is for Detroit and Lower Lake ports so I think Escanaba has a potential. There is nothing like your annual $90 million shipment by any port on Lake Michigan, but the Army Engineers don't even recognize you on the maps as a port. (Escanaba has a natural harbor.)"

Export Prospects

"As for an export center here, our people who are developing export business have got certain reservations, but think that materials complementary to the iron ore industry may have possibilities. A chemical non-metallic mineral industry has inquired about the potentials of Ashland, Escanaba and Green Bay in its long range planning."

"I'm enthusiastic about extending the ore shipping season at Escanaba. Where else can we do it and not go through locks? With modern navigation aids we could serve Detroit all winter and it's the second fastest growing steel center in the country."

When Gage asked about prospects of further processing of iron in the Upper Peninsula Kluender said that Hanna and National Steel are building a reduction plant in Escanaba. If that comes to the U. P., he said, it will be a question whether it will be at lakeside in Escanaba or at the mine plant."

Land Poor

"You're land poor up here," suggested Robert Gage, "you have so much land available for development that it leaves no impression of some specific property as highly desirable for use. We must have someplace to start," said Gage. "What have you got that's specially good and worth pushing? What's the price. And you don't need concessions."

Discussion revealed need for updating of the city's industrial brochure and counseled tailoring of plant site presentation to specific projects; desirability of waterfront development planning, improvement of mail service, and creating of a city planning office, and extension of sewerage to industrial development areas.

We invite you to come in and see our beautiful Christmas dolls, all entrants in our Dress-A-Doll Contest. We have them on display, the seven prize winners as well, each identified for you to enjoy. You will be amazed at the needlework, the craftsmanship, the obvious time that has been put into the sewing of each costume. The color—the entire display shown at one time—sets our lobby aglow.

Bring the family—everyone will enjoy seeing these dolls. Believe us, it's not just for the ladies. Many a man has lent a hand to help create some part of a doll's costume. You might wish to bring your camera along. The dolls can easily be photographed. Several have asked us about this.

Our thanks to the wonderful people who dressed a doll to help us make this program a success. The Dress-A-Doll Contest could not have been carried on without the generous help and contribution of time and talent that we received from all of these contestants.

Keep in mind these dolls will be given to The Salvation Army to be distributed to families in need of help at Christmas. This alone makes the entire program so worthwhile.

Mental Health Aid

We hear a great deal of justifiable complaint these days about centralization of government—the trend toward concentrating governmental power in Washington and toward usurping local authority to make decisions and carry out programs on a grass roots level.

This is nothing new. It's a pattern that has been gradually established because local governmental units could not—or in some cases would not—take care of their own needs. The federal government seeped in to fill the vacuum. It was able to do this largely because of its tremendous taxing power, far removed from local vetos.

In some instances, control from Washington has been a desirable arrangement, as in interstate highways and the national security system. In many other instances, federal control has been lamentably destructive, inefficient and expensive. Decisions have been made in Washington that should have been made in individual communities, which have a far better understanding of community needs than do bureaucrats scanning the local scene from a thousand miles away.

It is refreshing then to learn that in the area of mental health, at least, the federal government has adopted an enlightened philosophy of attempting to help local communities to help themselves without channeling more power to Washington. In this area, in fact, the emphasis is in the opposite direction.

Following passage by Congress of the Mental Health Centers Act of 1963, communities throughout the nation were asked to survey their own mental health facilities, services and needs. Volunteer groups to perform this function were organized. One such group functioned in the Upper Peninsula under the chairmanship of Dr. Richard O'Dell of Marquette.

The group worked for 18 months gathering data and preparing recommendations on Upper Peninsula mental health needs. The final report then was forwarded to Lansing and, ultimately, to Washington, along with similar reports from other parts of Michigan. Final recommendations for steps to be taken to meet the needs of each area were based on the findings of the various volunteer survey groups.

The point here is that the citizens themselves were asked to appraise conditions in their own communities instead of having this service performed for them by the federal government.

In the process, of course, the citizens acquired a much better understanding of their own needs and, hopefully, an intensified desire to do something to correct these needs.

The Mental Health Centers Act provides for federal appropriations for construction of centers, but states must match the funds granted by the federal government. And, more significantly, control of these centers is to be vested in local boards—not in Washington.

The objective of the Mental Health Centers Act is to provide full-fledged mental health services to all areas of the nation. If it succeeds, it will be a tribute to the principle of citizen involvement and may point the way to a better approach to community problems of other kinds.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — In very large measure, the nonmilitary war in Viet Nam is going to be won or lost by individuals.

It's the war of creating strong local democratic government in the face of terrorism.

If this were as easily done as written about, the $600 million economic-political aid we're pouring into Viet Nam each year (more than we're putting into any other country) would quickly wipe out the Viet Cong.

On paper, it's not difficult. You create a strong police force. You give economic help. You hold local elections. You build a strong local militia. You set up schools, clinics, dig wells.

But there are no practical charts on how to build self-government among a people who have been ruled for decades by outsiders. There's little known practically on how to successfully wipe out terrorism in a hamlet. How do you give hope to people who have lost hope?

In practice, there are no guidebooks. Success or failure comes down to a local young American civilian adviser, improvising as he goes along, living in a forest of American and Vietnamese red tape and dealing with customs he does not understand.

Over a year ago, some of the old hands who had been in Viet Nam off and on since the

THE PETER HOWARD Memorial Library, shown here in an architect's rendering, is now under construction on the lakeshore campus of Mackinac College, the new, private, four-year, liberal arts college on Mackinac Island. The 100,000 volume library, one of the largest in Northern Michigan combines modern styling and traditional Mackinac Island architecture.

Rush For September, 1966 Opening

Mackinac College Is 6th On Upper Peninsula's List

Michigan's newest private school and the 6th institution of higher education in the Upper Peninsula — Mackinac College on Mackinac Island — is hurrying to be ready to open classes for freshmen next September.

Already, a $1 million library is being erected, adding to the complex of buildings valued at $5.8 million available for use by the college.

President S. Douglas Cornell says he expects an initial enrollment of 300 next September. By 1968, a student body of 1,000 is expected along with 80 teachers plus administrative faculty.

Local Minority
If full enrollment is achieved, the students and faculty will outnumber the 942 permanent residents of the City of Mackinac Island.

Mackinac College is the educational offspring of the Moral Re-Armament organization (MRA) which has maintained summer headquarters of its worldwide social movement on the island in the Straits.

Some islanders are grumbling over the prospects of MRA activities, hitherto confined to summer, filling the whole year. And they are renewing repeated charges that MRA's eventual goal is to "take over" control of the picturesque island.

The coeducational institution expects to attract students from throughout the nation.

Tuition will cost $1,250 a year at the start, and room and board will be $850. Although ferry service across the Straits is discontinued because of ice from January to March, there is access to the island by airplane.

Founders of the college have announced that its purpose will be "to give training which will equip youth for the moral as well as intellectual leadership which the age demands."

Answer Pressures
American youths, according to founders, "Are eager for an education which prepares them to answer the pressures of fear, hatred and greed, prejudice and apathy, which threaten to negate man's spectacular advances in knowledge and technical skills."

Moral Re-Armament is a worldwide social movement with religious overtones. Its supporters believe in absolute honesty, absolute love, absolute unselfishness and absolute purity.

If each man recognizes his own faults and strives to correct them, the world can become a utopia, MRA advocates preach.

Some Opposition
As rose-colored an approach as MRA has its detractors, writes Robert Pope, in the Detroit News, including George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, and the Roman Catholic Church.

MRA was founded by the late Frank Buchman in 1922 at Oxford University in England. For a while the group was known as the Oxford Movement.

The method of academic ranking used at Oxford will be incorporated at Mackinac College. Instead of ranking the faculty as professors, assistant professors, associate professors and instructors, the teaching staff will be grouped into two categories, junior and senior fellows.

Salaries Set
Pay for senior fellows will range from $9,000 to $13,000 a year, from $5,500 to $9,000 for junior fellows. Fringe benefits will include low-cost housing and food and a liberal pension plan.

Besides using tuition money, operators of the college disclose that they will finance its operation through donations and gifts. Already, the prospectus says, 130 donors have pledged $200,000 to its early operations and a nationwide fund drive is promised.

MRA facilities now can house 400 men students and 250 women in facilities scattered over 161 acres owned by the organization on Mackinac Island.

Students will be accepted on the basis of standard test scores, said Cornell, and the student body will not be restricted to believers in the MRA movement.

While those close to the school are soliciting funds to finance it, others are applying for federal aid under the educational facilities construction act, Cornell said.

"I have seen higher education at close range the last 20 years and have been concerned about it," he said. Cornell is the holder of a Ph.D. from Yale. He came to Mackinac College from a job as executive officer of the National Academy of Sciences in Washington. He has been associated with MRA for a dozen years.

Chairman of the college board is Basil R. Entwistle, a resident of the island and an MRA director.

State Hospital Care Praised

Dear Readers: I received tremendous response to the letter from the mother of the 15-year old mental patient who committed her son to a state mental hospital. She wrote, "I know patients USED to be treated like animals but I thought conditions had been improved."

Her signature was "Faith Shattered."

I asked my readers if this letter could have come from their STATE state. Here is a sampling of the replies:

California: I am a former patient of a state mental hospital in California. It might surprise you but I am taking the side of the state. If that boy tried to escape twice, the third time he might have twisted the iron leg off a bed and split a nurse's head open.

I was put into solitary when I imagined the attendants were conspiring to kill me and hide my body.

I threw a tray full of food at a nurse and I was placed in a room with only a mattress on the floor. Now that I am well I understand things better. The employees of the California state hospital system deserve medals for their bravery and their kindness. -- D.B.L.

North Carolina: I, too, had a teen-age son who was committed to a state mental hospital. I thought the attendants were mistreating him because he cried so much. I know now he only wanted to be taken home where he would get his own way. Today the boy is 21 and self-supporting. Our state hospital did for him what I, his mother, could never have done. -- APPRECIATIVE

Michigan: I have nothing but good to report about the Traverse City state hospital. I was a patient there over a year. The food was good, the rooms were clean and the attendants, doctors and nurses were kind and thoughtful. I now hold a responsible position, drive my own car and I am living proof that the mentally ill can be rehabilitated. -- T.C.R.

North Dakota: I am 16-year-old boy who has spent eight months in the state hospital. I just read the letter from the mother who complained about the way they treated her son. What did she expect? Color TV in every room maybe? A lot of kids who are mentally ill get away with murder at home. This doesn't help them get well. I know because it was part of my problem. They are teaching me here to be an adult, and I am grateful. -- EX PHYCHO

New York: I was a patient in a New York state mental hospital and I swear to God a person couldn't get better treatment if he went to the fanciest private hospital in the country. -- RECOVERED

Illinois: My sister is a patient at the Illinois Psychiatric Institute. We hated to commit her because we had heard state hospitals were snakes pits. I can report that she has been treated beautifully and has shown remarkable improvement. I thank the Lord we live in Illinois. -- PROUD

Conn. rectitude: "Faith Shattered" could not have written from our state. We operate two residential treatment programs for children up to 16, plus many child guidance clinics. Children who are able to attend classes do so in a fine building opened in 1962. We have excellent recreational facilities complete with swimming pool. Connecticut does very well by her disturbed children and she hopes to do even better. -- SEN. ABRAHAM RIBICOFF

Indiana: After living next door to a 15-year-old homicidal boy whose parents took him out of a mental hospital because they didn't treat him like royalty, I have a word to say to all mothers of disturbed children: I saw them carry the body out of the house. I recall how his mother kept saying he'd "out-grow his meanness."

Our late president was assassinated by a man whose mother didn't think HE needed psychiatric care either and the whole world has suffered the consequences. -- INDIANA

Budget Boosted By 10 Million In Conservation

LANSING (UPI)—A $36.2 million Conservation Department budget was recommended Friday by the Conservation Commission.

The recommendation was $10 million more than the current Conservation Department budget.

Conservation Department Director Ralph MacMullan said rising costs and a greater demand for recreational needs were responsible for seeking more funds.

Police Solve Burglary Spree

MENOMINEE — Two 17-year-old Menominee County youths were bound over to Circuit Court for trial on breaking and entering charges after they waived preliminary examination when arraigned before acting Municipal Judge Steven Barstow.

Clifford J. Schomer and James A. DeCamp were lodged in the County Jail after failing to post $10,000 bond each. Police charged the youths with the Halloween break-in at a Menominee bar. Officers said the youths have admitted burglaries at other business places in the past month. An investigation is continuing.

Police apparently solved another series of break-ins with the arrest of two 15-year-old boys, who told police they set alarm clocks for 3 a.m. to get up for their nighttime burglaries. The boys said they returned home by 5 a.m. before they were missed.

Officers said the boys admitted eight break-ins at Menominee stores. They were turned over to Probate Court.

Santa and the Zabbazara Bus

BY LUCRECE BEALE

CHAPTER ONE SANTA AND THE ZABBAZARA BUS

This is the story of the Zabbazara bus. How it came to go to Santa Land, and how Santa happened to ride in it, and how it came to Zabbazara which is a land where the sun always shines and no growups are allowed.

The Zabbazara bus was not always the Zabbazara bus. It used to be the Main Street bus.

Mr. Diefenderfer was the driver. He had such a long name no one ever bothered to say it. Not even Mr. Diefenderfer. Everyone called him Mr. D. and that's what he called himself.

He was a little fellow with big ears and long feet and crossed eyes. For as long as anyone could remember he had been the driver of the Main Street bus, which never went anywhere at all except up and down Main Street 33 times a day.

As soon as the sun rose each morning Mr. D got on his bus and put on his special driving glasses. He put on the glasses the very first thing because without them he saw two of everything, and seeing even one Main Street was almost more than he could bear.

As soon as he put on his glasses he took off his shoes. His feet were so big he could never get shoes that fit, and his feet always hurt.

He tucked his shoes under the seat. Then he put on his driver's hat. It was an official cap and very smart. At least on anyone else it would have looked smart. But the way Mr. D's big ears curled up around the hat it looked like a flying saucer with wings that had just happened to land on Mr. D's head by mistake.

He didn't look like much of a driver. But then the bus he drove didn't look like much of a bus either.

It looked like a beaten up old picnic basket on wheels. People said it was a hundred years old at least, and how it held together no one knew. Yet Mr. D loved the bus. It was

Main Street he just couldn't stand any more. And the people who rode the Main Street bus. They were very rude to Mr. D.

"Pull in your ears," they said to him. "They're shutting out the view."

They looked at his big shoes tucked under the seat and said, "Do you have permission to carry BOATS on this bus?"

Mr. D was tired of it all. He kept wondering, "What lies beyond Main Street?"

One day, right in the middle of the Christmas rush, Mr. D decided he had had enough. He got a signboard and he painted on it in big red letters ZABBAZARA. He took down the sign on the side of the bus that said "Main Street" and he put up the new sign saying "ZABBAZARA."

Then he got on the bus and drove straight through the town, never stopping once for all the people waiting for the Main Street bus.

New Cardinals To Be Created

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Vatican sources said last week Pope Paul VI is expected to announce a consistory in the near future for the creation of a "large number" of new cardinals, including several Americans.

These sources said the Pope may name as many as 50 new princes of the Catholic Church, making the consistory the largest in history.

There currently are 99 cardinals, five of them Americans. When Pope Paul held his first consistory on Feb. 22 of this year, creating 27 new cardinals, he raised the Sacred College to a record high of 103.

Until the reign of the late John XXIII the traditional high for cardinals was 70. But Pope John ignored this and the number has been climbing with each consistory.

Following the Feb. 22 consistory, Pope Paul said he planned to name more cardinals after the Ecumenical Council, which ends next Wednesday. Vatican sources said it was possible he might choose the closing session of the council to make the announcement.

A number of American prelates are considered among the leading candidates to become cardinals.

An almost certain choice is John Patrick Cody, recently named archbishop of Chicago. Prior to that appointment he had been serving as archbishop of New Orleans.

Another name mentioned is Archbishop John Joseph Krol of Philadelphia. Other prominent American prelates who might be named are:

—John Francis Dearden, archbishop of Detroit.

—Leo Binz, archbishop of St. Paul, Minn.

—Patrick J. Hallinan, archbishop of Atlanta.

—Martin J. O'Connor, head of the Pontifical Commission on Mass Communications. O'Connor, former head of the North American Pontifical College in Rome, is from Scranton, Pa.

State Agency Is Streamlined

LANSING (UPI)—Gov. George Romney has signed an order creating a streamlined State Department of Conservation — the 14th new agency established under the Executive Reorganization Act of 1965.

The new Conservation Department will encompass the duties of the old department but will also absorb the Tourist Council, the Waterways Commission, the Water Resources Commission, the Mackinac Island Park Commission and the State Boating Control Committee.

The department will be headed by a bipartisan five-member commission instead of the seven-member commission which led the old department.

Executive reorganization is designed to consolidate state government from about 130 departments and bureaus that existed before the act into 19 departments.

ANSWERS YOUR INSURANCE QUESTIONS

QUESTION: You read in the papers about cars running off the street and crashing into houses and someone made a joke the other day about people taking out insurance if they lived on bad corners. Is there any such insurance?

ANSWER: Yes, there is. Damage to homes from wild vehicles comes under Extended Coverage insurance which is an endorsement added to a regular fire insurance policy.

Deer Hunt Rush Sets Span Mark

ST. IGNACE — Traffic and Revenues for November showed a whopping increase over last year and broke all previous records for November, including 1957, the first month of bridge operation, says Mackinac Bridge Authority Chairman Prentiss M. Brown.

"The Saturday opening of hunting season for the entire Upper Peninsula, combined with generally prosperous economic conditions, no doubt were responsible for 10,000 more hunter vehicles than last year crossing over the bridge prior to the season opening."

"For the 24 hour period of Nov. 12, they arrived at the Straits at an average of 750 vehicles per hour and peaked 939 per hour. There were no delays in crossing the bridge although the lines moved slowly at times. Four lanes open northbound permitted our toll collectors to process better than five vehicles per minute, an outstanding accomplishment."

"Had such a volume of traffic tried to cross the Straits during the ferry operation, the vehicle lineup would have stretched out about 80 miles south of the Straits."

"There were 59 per cent more vehicles crossing over the Straits during November of 1965 than during November of 1956, last year of ferry operation when 73,795 vehicles made the crossing."

Traffic was up 22.9 per cent from 5,581 vehicles in November of '64 to 117,251 vehicles for the past month. For the same comparable periods revenues were up 23.7 per cent from $421,813 to $521,906. Truck traffic showed a 37.4 per cent increase, but most of this traffic was comprised of pickups mounted with campers.

There are about 500 species of dogs in the world, mostly African or Oriental, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Local Students In Program At Mankato College

The traditional Christmas festival of music, offered by the music department of Mankato State College, Mankato, Minn., will be held Sunday, Dec. 12.

Six choral and instrumental groups will perform Christmas music which had its origin in many parts of the world, and which represents periods.

Among the students who will participate in the program are Sandy Glaeser, a senior, of Escanaba, who is a member of the brass ensemble; and Carol Bradley, also a senior, of Manistique, who sings in the capella choir.

Magazine Reports Schoolcraft Outing

An outdoor Christmas holiday at Blazed Trail Lake in the Hiawatha National Forest in Schoolcraft County is described in the December issue of Outdoor Life.

Written by Erwin A. Bauer, the article, "Christmas Adventure," is illustrated with several color and black and white photos.

The text describes a week-long vacation spent by three Ohio families hunting snowshoe hares, fishing through the ice and engaging in other outdoor activities from the camp of Frank Sayers. Total cost of the vacation was less than $100 per family.

Young Hunter Gets Deer, Bear

Terry Larson, 15, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Larson of Rock, shot and killed a large bear on the last day of the hunting season. The bear weighed about 300 pounds.

Terry also filled his deer license this year, shooting a doe. Both animals were killed on his grandfather's farm. This is the second year he has hunted.

U.P. Chapter Of Mental Health Society Started

Action was taken Friday in Marquette to establish an Upper Peninsula chapter of the Michigan Society for Mental Health.

Meeting on the campus of Northern Michigan University, a group of Upper Peninsula leaders voted to set up the chapter after hearing addresses by Harold Webster, executive director of the state society, and James Kipfer, assistant director, both of Detroit.

The group elected Ellwood Mattson, Marquette, executive vice president and cashier of the First National Bank, as president of the U. P. chapter.

Ogden Johnson, Ishpeming, a long-time member of the state society, was chairman of the meeting. He said the society was formed 28 years ago as a citizens' organization dedicated to improving mental health facilities and services in Michigan. The society receives 85 per cent of its finances from the United Fund and the remaining 15 per cent from private donations and grants.

In tracing the history of the society, Webster pointed out that, in 1937, when the society was organized, the only facilities for treating mental illness in Michigan were state hospitals and, when the hospitals were filled, city and county jails.

Needs For Beds
"The society's board in 1953 said that what was needed was a bond issue for 7,500 new beds. The bond issue passed overwhelmingly, but before construction got underway, prices went up, so we got only 6,000 beds."

"In 1959 the board realized that more beds alone was not the answer to the problem. We decided we would discontinue asking the Legislature for more beds until some alternative programs could be established and functioning. This is our policy today."

What are the alternatives? Kipfer listed some of them:

1. Aftercare, or caring for patients still on a convalescent status.

"There were between 5,000 and 6,000 patients on convalescent status in the state in 1960, and many of them were not well-cared for in the community. About 50 per cent returned to state hospitals within the first year of convalescence."

"We now have about 2,700 patients in Michigan on convalescent status on an after-care basis. That's equivalent to one state hospital, which would cost about $30 million. We now have five aftercare centers in the state and two more on the drawing board."

County Programs

2. Psychiatric units in general hospitals (such as the one at St. Mary's Hospital in Marquette).

"We now have 700 beds in general hospital psychiatric units in the state, about double the number five years ago," Kipfer said. "These 700 beds are admitting about 16,000 patients a year. Contrast this with the 20,000 beds in state hospitals that admit an average of 6,000 per year."

"With the increase in insurance coverage for mental illness, the use of these psychiatric unit beds will increase."

3. County referral programs. "This is an effort to get the aged out of state hospitals, many of whom are not mentally ill, but where else could we put them?"

"The federal government made a policy decision to permit old people in state hospitals to receive Social Security payments, which they weren't eligible to do before, and about 2,200 of them have left state hospitals in the three years since that decision."

4. Special education programs in schools. This is a stepped up effort to deal with children in schools who are largely behavior problems with a mental illness involvement.

"In the past three years 40 school districts have set up special education programs," Kipfer said. (Voters in the Marquette-Alger School District approved such a program last June.)

Public Act 54

5. Public Act 54, the Community Mental Health Services Act of 1963.

This provides for a shift in responsibility for mental health services from the state to the community, with the state paying 75 per cent of the cost for mental health care and the community 25 per cent.

Appraising the effectiveness of these alternatives to hospitalization, Kipfer said, "The state now has only 200 adults on its hospital waiting lists, compared with 700 to 800 five years ago. We now have 2,000 less adults in state hospitals than we had five years ago."

Webster suggested that Marquette and Alger Counties should consider setting up community mental health services under Public Act 54.

"Under this act," he said, "you can establish and administer treatment programs locally with the state determining adequate professional staffing and practices. About 50 per cent of the nation now has this sort of arrangement. Since passage of the act in Michigan in 1963, 19 community mental health services boards have been set up. Two of these boards are in the Upper Peninsula (Iron-Dickinson Counties and Houghton-Baraga-Keweenaw - Ontonagon Counties.)

"If you can provide the alternative services, two-thirds of the patients don't have to go to state hospitals, so why not save this money and go under Public Act 54?"

Newcomer's Party Opens Holiday Season

The holiday social season was opened formally in Escanaba Saturday evening with the annual Newcomer's Club dinner dance at the Terrace Supper Club.

The gala affair began with cocktails at 7 p.m. followed by a buffet dinner. The dining room and ballroom were beautifully decorated in a winter white theme which was contrasted by the many varying colored evening gowns. It is interesting to note the trend to the floor length ball gowns which was very apparent at this affair as nearly all of the

Richard Ducheny, master of ceremonies, introduced Mrs. Michael Jensen, Welcome Wagon hostess, who told of the background and purpose of the club. Mrs. Jensen was attired in a beige lace dress with pink trim. Mrs. Richard Ducheny, president of the club, was wearing a forest green velvet gown with a floor length sheath skirt. Mrs. Jensen and Mrs. Ducheny were presented with corsages.

Mrs. Ducheny introduced the following slate of new officers for the club: Mrs. William Felger, president; Mrs. Gerald Riddas, first vice president; Mrs. William Bixcomb, second vice president; Mrs. John LaBranche, third vice president; Mrs. James LeGault, secretary; Mrs. James Valentine, treasurer.

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:
While sewing one day, I found that a bar of used soap (which you always have around the house) makes an excellent marker for darts, etc. I like it much better than chalk.

It makes clear, even marks on any material, and washes out beautifully when washable clothes are laundered.

Colored soap could be used on light material, and white on darker shades.

Bernice Platek
Now, Bernice, you are about the trickiest that I have seen in a long while.

Certainly, GREEN or PINK soap would show beautifully on white or navy blue, etc., materials.

I especially love the left-over "slivers" for this, after the bar of soap has been used, and used, and used. Makes a real neat mark. It's so nice and slim.

Thanks from all of us who sew. I happen to be one. . . Love, Heloise

Dear Heloise:
When the plastic on the inside of your baby's pants tears or cracks, you can cut the plastic out of the inside of the pants, and use the outside rayon as pants.

It works beautifully. Saves, too.

Mrs. Neudorf
Dear Heloise:
To dry your Venetian blinds in a hurry:

After the last rinse, tie them to a line outdoors, or over the shower rod of your bathroom, and then use the blower on your vacuum cleaner.

They will dry fast, and will have no water spots left on them.

A Heloise Fan
True but be SURE to hang them back on the window and fasten them BEFORE the tape dries. Most tapes shrink, so stretch 'em while wet.

Dear Heloise:
For those who have perspiration-stained T-shirts and sheets, along with towels which often look dirty—especially in the center:

I learned that if I would add three tablespoons of sal soda, along with my detergent, in my washing machine when I do the laundry, it works like a gem.

One can pre-soak their clothes in a few tablespoons of sal soda in cool water before washing, and this seems to do an even better job.

Since I found this out, my laundry gleams.

Dahl To Manage Fargo Station

A. Edward Dahl, co-owner with Hart Cardozo and manager of Radio Station WDBC of Escanaba, has been named manager of Radio Station KGGO of Fargo, N. D., and will go to that job in January, with Jim Zimmerman, sales manager of WDBC, succeeding him as manager there.

Zimmerman, a native of Nahma, attended school in Escanaba and had served on Radio Stations WLST and WDBC before returning here in March, 1963 from Grand Rapids to join WDBC's staff. He and Mrs. Zimmerman and their four children live at 522 S. 2nd Ave.

Dahl goes to the farm service station at Fargo which was purchased recently by Cardozo. It has been operated on 5,000 watts on 790 kilocycles as part of a radio-television complex, but the TV station is being separated. Cardozo also owns 85 per cent of WDBQ, Dubuque, Ia., 100 per cent of KATE, Albert Lea, Minn., and half of WDBC with Dahl. Cardozo bought KBGO from John W. Bolter of Fargo.

Dahl came to Escanaba in February, 1963 from St. Cloud, Minn., where he managed WJON.

Speeding Truck Kills Over 100 In Togo Parade

LOME, Togo (UPI) — A speeding trailer truck plowed into a snake-dancing procession of villagers north of here Sunday, killing more than 100 persons including an American Peace Corps worker, police said today.

Police put the toll from the accident at Soutoubou village, 180 miles from Lome, at 115 dead and more than 100 seriously injured.

In Washington, the Peace Corps confirmed it had received a telephone report from Togo indicating that more than 100 persons died and another 100 were injured.

It said James George Driscoll, 20, a Peace Corps worker from Buffalo, N.Y., was killed in the accident. Four other Peace Corpsmen were injured, none of them seriously. The Peace Corps said its information indicated two trucks were involved in the accident.

Brother Lewis Dies Of Cancer

Brother J. Lewis, FSC, a member of the faculty of Holy Name High School from 1958 until June of this year, died of cancer in La Crosse, Wis., at 3:30 p.m. Sunday. Cancer was first detected in August of this year, and since that time, Brother Lewis had been under treatment at Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn.

Brother Lewis was born Vincent P. Heffernon on Feb. 24, 1922 in Rosedale, Kansas. He entered the junior novitiate of the Christian Brothers in 1937 and was received into the order on Aug. 30, 1939 in Glencoe, Mo. After receiving his bachelor's degree from St. Mary's College, Winona, Minn., he taught at St. Patrick Academy in Chicago. In this period he completed his master's degree at De Paul University. Brother Lewis also taught in high schools in Winona, Minn., and Vincennes, Ind., before being assigned to Holy Name in 1958.

Brother Lewis' teaching fields were science and mathematics. He celebrated his silver jubilee as a Christian Brother on May 15, 1965.

Funeral services will be held in the St. Thomas Chapel on the campus of St. Mary's College in Winona at 10 a.m. Tuesday. Father Lawrence Gauthier, superintendent of Holy Name High School, will offer the requiem mass. Burial will be in the Brothers' cemetery in Winona.

Briefly Told

Escanaba police have issued traffic court summonses to Michael Roach, Nekoosa, Wis., for failing to stop in the assured clear distance, Ward T. Zeno, 623 S. 12th St., speeding and Clarence W. Clark, 1126 Stephenson Ave., improper backing, and failing to stop and report an accident.

Two Injured In Car Crash

Two young men were injured, neither seriously, in a traffic mishap Saturday night on S. 23rd St., when the car skidded on snowy pavement and struck two trees.

Injured were Dean D. Dye, 16, of 1507 S. 14th St., driver of the car, and his passenger, Michael Meier, 17, of 1421 12th Ave. S.

Dye suffered a bruised forehead and mild shock and Meiers had lacerations over the left eye and a broken nose. It is reported by Escanaba police who investigated the accident.

Dye was driving south on S. 23rd St. in the 200 block when his car went out of control on the snowy pavement after he applied the brakes to avoid hitting a dog. The skidding car went for 200 feet before it struck a tree and then continued on for 21 feet before hitting a second one.

There were several minor traffic accidents in the city as a result of the slippery conditions, and officers urged motorists to drive with caution.

Brother Mannes Urbane

Brother Mannes Taken By Death

Brother Mannes Urbane, O.P., 53, of 1909 S. Ashland, St. Thomas Priory, Chicago, died Saturday of a heart ailment.

He was born Jan. 2, 1912 in DePue, Ill., and is the son of Joseph Urbane and the late Julia Urbane of Bark River.

Prior to entering the Dominican Order he attended high school at Iron Mountain and also worked at the vonPlatten-Fox Lumber mill in Iron Mountain.

He was professed in the Order of Preachers at the Priory of St. Thomas Aquinas, River Forest, Ill., on May 30, 1934 and has served at various houses in St. Albert's Province, including Fenwick High School in Oak Park, Ill., the Dominican headquarters of St. Pius in Chicago and the Dominican House of Theology, Dubuque, Iowa.

Surviving besides his father are four brothers, Adolph and Alec of Bark River, John of Natick, Mass., Herman of Green Bay; three sisters, Mrs. George (Mary) Nokes and Mrs. Edgar (Ida) Manning of San Diego, Calif., Mrs. Joseph (Josephine) Ziegler of Campo, Calif.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 10 a.m. at the St. Thomas Priory and burial will be in the St. Thomas Priory Cemetery. Attending the services will be Adolph, Urbane and Mr. and Mrs. Alec Urbane.

Jail Authorized To Hold Federal Crime Prisoners

The Delta County jail, which is currently housing two prisoners who face federal bank robbery charges, was only recently authorized to hold federal prisoners, Sheriff Cully Johnson said today.

A three-year contract was approved and forwarded to Escanaba Nov. 30 by U.S. Marshall Floyd Stevens of Grand Rapids. The Delta County jail will serve the Northwest Region, District 8, of the Western Michigan Judicial Circuit.

The jail was approved for detention purposes by the Federal Bureau of Prisons.

"This is the first time Delta County has had a contract to hold federal prisoners," Sheriff Johnson said. "The old jail wouldn't meet federal standards."

The new jail, which has been in use about a year, has a maximum capacity of 52 prisoners.

ELWYN SWANSON
Funeral services for Elwyn Swanson of Peoria, Ill., were held this afternoon at the Lakeview Cemetery Chapel with the Rev. Erlend Carlson officiating. Burial was in the family lot.

Holiday Stores Open Unit Here

Holiday Station Stores opened its first unit in this area today at 1301 Ludington St., with D. H. (Pete) Boyce Jr., as manager.

The former gas station site has been equipped with a modern store building at the rear of the lot and the gas station has been modernized. The property is being sold by Walch Development Co., to Escanaba Holiday Station Stores, Inc.

The unit is an operation franchised by Erickson Petroleum Corp., of Minneapolis. It operates its store in connection with its gasoline sales, granting discounts on merchandise in relationship to gasoline purchases.

The store handles a wide assortment of goods including apparel, footwear, foods and confections, drinks, novelties, etc.

It will be operated 7 days a week.

Airport Tax Vote Is Light

A light vote was being registered in Escanaba and Gladstone today on the county-wide proposal to levy 2 mills for one year to finance improvement to the airport in Escanaba.

The polls will be open until 8 tonight.

Should voters approve the 2 mills levy, there would be raised $152,665 tax dollars which with matching funds would finance a project whose total cost is estimated at $21,000. State and federal funds would make up the difference.

At 11:45 a.m. of Escanaba's 7,750 registered voters only 329 had cast their ballot - a "very, very light vote," said City Clerk Don Gundon. Usually the total by noon is 1,000.

In Gladstone only about 128 of about 2,400 registered voters had turned out as of 11:45 a.m.

A spokesman for the city termed the response "very light."

All precincts in Gladstone vote at the City Hall and by precinct the vote was: Precinct 1-31, 2-38, 3-27, and 4-32.

Air Passenger Traffic Grows

The volume of North Central Airlines passenger traffic continues to grow at the Escanaba municipal airport, with traffic for November this year 258 passengers above the same month a year ago.

Jon Thorin, airport manager, reports that the November, 1965 total was 1,160 passengers, compared to 902 for the same month last year.

In addition there were 86 transient flights, four military and 11 locally based planes for last month, according to the report made by Thorin to City Manager George Harvey.

Six flights were cancelled because of adverse weather conditions.

NMU To Honor First War Dead

MARQUETTE—A memorial service for Gary F. Lee, Northern Michigan University graduate killed in action in Viet Nam in November, will be held in the Little Theater at Northern Michigan University at 8 p. m. Tuesday, Dec. 7.

Gary Lee, a resident of Kingsford, was graduated from Northern in August of 1963. A student leader, he was president of Alpha Phi Omega Fraternity and a member of the Newman Student Association. He entered the army in May of 1964 and subsequently was assigned to Viet Nam where he saw heavy action in August of this year.

Students, faculty and the public will attend the Memorial Service held by the University to pay tribute to Gary Lee, the first Northern graduate reported killed in Viet Nam.

The eulogy will be given by James Cameron, former classmate of Mr. Lee and now a member of the Department of Business at Northern Michigan University.

The Rev. Glen G. Weber, Catholic student chaplain, will give the invocation; and The Reverend William T. Payne, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Marquette, will give the benediction.

The Newman Student Association announced that a memorial Mass for Mr. Lee will be said at St. Michael's Church at 5 p. m. Tuesday, Dec. 7.

Following the NMU Memorial Service, the annual campus tree-lighting ceremony sponsored by the Alpha Phi Omega Fraternity will be dedicated to the memory of Mr. Lee. The ceremony will begin at 8:30 p. m. in front of the University Center.

COTTAGE CHEESE POPULAR

NEW YORK (UPI)—A survey shows that last year Americans spent more than $250 million for 839 million pounds of what is probably the oldest convenience food—cottage cheese.

The survey, sponsored by the Lily-Tulip Cup Corp., also found that the average Californian eats about seven pounds a year, 50 per cent more than the U.S. average.

THIS HUBA HUBA sign on the Mississippi River bridge in New Orleans is a new twist. Bridge Authority executive director Charles Macaulay, who dreamed up the idea, says he thought it was a nice way to tell motorists to hurry up. 'Huba Huba' is a slang expression that originated with U.S. occupation of Japan and means 'Hurry Up.' (AP Wirephoto)

Safe Driving Test Coming

In the interest of promoting traffic safety in Michigan the Secretary of State's office is giving driver license renewal applicants a "safe driving" quiz beginning on Monday.

Robert Crepeau, in charge of the Department of State examining station at 807 Ludington St., said today that the test will be given all applicants for renewals of operator's licenses.

Joseph Corcoran, managing director of the Department, Lansing, said the forms should be sent to Lansing with each application.

"The quiz is not designed to fail any applicant but to acquaint him with new laws and driving tips," Corcoran said.

The test was recommended by the recent Governor's Safety Conference and the questions are those from new laws and safe driving recommendations by authorities.

There are a variety of questions, which the applicant is asked to answer "true" or "false." The program is to encourage drivers to keep pace with modern traffic conditions and drive according to the law and safe driving practices. No applicant will be refused a license because of the score he makes in the test.

Rock 4-H club members will meet at the Lions clubhouse Wednesday, Dec. 8 at 7 p. m. for a meeting and Christmas party. There will be a program and gifts will be exchanged.

Ladies Aid

The Faith Ladies Aid will meet Dec. 9, Thursday, at 7:30 p. m. at the Faith Lutheran Church. Members will exchange gifts. Members of the Faith-Beth group are to bring mittens to be donated to the children of the retarded school in Escanaba.

Attend Meeting

Four members of the West Rock 4-H club attended the Marquette county service club meeting Thursday evening at the Gwinn Community building, to make final plans for the awards dinner and Christmas party to be held Saturday, Dec. 4 at the Gwinn High School. Attending were Carol Niemela, Carol Lippens, Ellen Bakka and Nancy Linjala.

Kenneth O. Doyle Prosecutor's Aide In Menominee

MENOMINEE — Kenneth O. Doyle has taken over as Menominee County assistant prosecuting attorney under an appointment by his brother, Prosecutor Thurman B. (Sam) Doyle.

Prosecutor Doyle is a patient in St. Joseph-Lloyd Hospital under treatment for pneumonia and bronchitis.

The appointment was approved by Circuit Judge Ernest W. Brown of Iron Mountain and confirmed by Donald Goulais, assistant Michigan attorney general at the Escanaba office.

Goulais recently completed an investigation of complaints filed with Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley against Doyle for allegedly failing to issue criminal warrants requested in certain cases.

Goulais feels he has straightened out any misunderstanding between Doyle and Menominee law enforcement officers.

In Service

The James Johnsons of Bark River Rte. 2 have two sons in the service of the United States. SP4 Carl Johnson was recently promoted to that rank in the U. S. Army. He is stationed with the Army in Saigon, where he is a film specialist. He enlisted in November, 1963. His brother, Airman 2c James Johnson Jr., is with the Air Force and is stationed in Washington, D. C. Both young men are graduates of Escanaba High School.

Chief Yeoman Robert A. Erickson, USN, son of Mrs. Andrew F. Erickson of 225 Stephenson Ave., Escanaba, is scheduled to depart Norfolk, Va., on Nov. 29, aboard the amphibious assault ship USS Guam, for a four-month deployment to the Caribbean.

As flagship for Amphibious Squadron 12, Guam will carry a thousand-man Marine landing force with all their combat supplies and equipment, and a Marine helicopter squadron composed of 24 transport helicopters. Several exercises are planned in which these Marines will be transported and landed at inland objectives by helicopter.

The ship is scheduled to visit several Caribbean ports, including San Juan, Puerto Rico, St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, and Trinidad, off the coast of Venezuela.

Peninsula Potpourri

IRONWOOD—City Manager Kenneth E. Long reported that 1,164 truck loads of snow were hauled from city garages during removal operations Thursday. Long said he believes it is a record for so early in the year. The city was buried earlier this week under 13 inches of snow.

MARQUETTE—The City plans to spend a quarter million dollars in a street paving program next year, Mayor Edward L. Downey reported in his annual "report to the people." Tentative plans call for resurfacing of 15 to 20 miles of streets, Downey said. The city has averaged about $40,000 to $50,000 on road resurfacing each year.

MARINETTE—Residents may be due for a "kick in the wallet" if the proposed budget by the City Council is approved. The Council has called for expenditures of $2,648,723—an increase of about $547,000 over the current budget—and an increase of four mills per $1,000 assessed valuation to finance the budget. Largest appropriation increase was an additional $225,000 for debt payments. The budget includes school payments.

SAULT STE. MARIE—Five major indexes of business activity in Sault Ste. Marie show an increase ranging from eight to 22 per cent over the past five years, according to a survey by the Sault Chamber of Commerce. The study shows that the average gain in business activity since 1960 is 14.4 per cent.

IRONWOOD—Trial of James Vitch of Hurley, who is charged with first degree murder in the shooting death of Hurley tavern keeper Henry Kimball on Hurley's main street, will begin Tuesday in Iron County, Wis. Circuit Court before Judge Lewis J. Charles of Ashland, Wis.

MARQUETTE—The year 1965 "in dollar value will undoubtedly be the greatest building year in the city's history," according to City Assessor John R. Meyers. Total construction, including $6.7 million by Northern Michigan University, is expected to be nearly $9 million.

MUNISING—Taxpayers in Alger County, for the second time in three months, have turned down a proposal to construct a medical care facility in Munising. Vote was an overwhelming 1,144 to 540 against the proposal. On the first election the proposal lost by only four votes, 648 to 644.

Textbook Puts U.P. In Canada

MARQUETTE — A group of American government students at Northern Michigan University has taken issue with a political map in a textbook which places the Upper Peninsula of Michigan in Canada.

The map was found in the fifth edition of the textbook, "Government by the People," by James MacGregor and John W. Smith. In a letter written by John W. Smith, political science instructor and signed by the class, the authors were told:

"As residents of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan—the Northern variety of the Water-Winter Wonderland—we lament our region being portrayed as part of Canada. "Federal reapportionment reduced our favored position in Congress, but the State legislature did not write us out of the union."

"Please take note and correct this grievous error in your sixth edition, for although we are a sparsely populated region, our class does represent about 1,100 sales per year."

Eaton Names Research Heads

Appointment of Sidney Oldberg to the newly created position of director of research and development for Eaton Manufacturing Co. has been announced by W. Ross Eames, vice president of engineering. At the same time Robert G. Brown has been named general manager of the Eaton Research Center in Southfield, Mich.

In his new position Oldberg will act as technical representative for the vice president of engineering on corporate R&D programs and will work to establish improved liaison with other D&D organizations in order to keep abreast of the latest advances and to stimulate the flow of new product ideas.

Oldberg joined Eaton in 1945 as executive engineer of the Wilcox-Rich Division (now the Eaton Saginaw and Eaton Valve Division) and shortly thereafter was placed in charge of the company's Detroit Automotive Laboratory. Under his directions the laboratory grew in size and scope until in 1959 it became the Eaton Research Center with Oldberg as director.

Oldberg is a graduate of Cornell University (BSME) and a member of SAE, ASME and IAS. Mr. and Mrs. Old-berg make their home in Birmingham, Mich.

Robert G. Brown has been named general manager of the Eaton Research Center with responsibility for all activities at the Center, reporting to the vice president of engineering. Brown joined Eaton in 1953 as laboratory supervisor and was appointed assistant director of the Eaton Research Center in 1960. He received his BSME degree from the University of Michigan and an MS degree from the Chrysler Institute of Technology.

He served three years with the Army Corps of Engineers during World War II and was with the Chrysler Corp. for five years before joining Eaton. He is a member of SAE and ESD. He resides with his wife and four children in Bloomfield Township, Mich., a suburb of Detroit.

Packers, Bears Win To Force Showdown In NFL This Week

By JEFF MEYERS
UPI Sports Writer

The Chicago Bears, the hottest team in the National Football League, tossed their weight around Sunday and threw the Western Division race into confusion.

The Bears have won four straight, raising their record to 8-4 and keeping alive their slim hope for a Western crown. They blanked the division-leading Baltimore Colts 13-0 Sunday but more significantly, a pair of 250-pound Chicago linemen unintentionally ended the regular season for Johnny Unitas by tearing a ligament in his knee on a tackle.

What looked like a Western runaway for the Colts (9-2-1) now has turned into a showdown with second-place Green Bay (9-3) on Sunday with Chicago mathematically alive. A victory by Baltimore or a pair of triumphs by the Packers would eliminate the Bears even if they win their remaining two games. Baltimore can win it all by whipping the Packers.

In other games, New York walloped Pittsburgh 35-10, Cleveland whipped Washington 24-16, Los Angeles blasted St. Louis 27-3, San Francisco edged Detroit 17-14, and Dallas shaded Philadelphia 21-19.

Bear's Revenge
Rookie Gale Sayers scored the only TD of the afternoon for the Bears, who avenged an early season loss to Baltimore. Sayers took a pitchout from Rudy Bukich in the first quarter and raced 61 yards to score. Roger LeClair booted 12 and 21-yard field goals for the Bears.

Unitas was blitzed during the second period by husky Chicago linemen Stan Jones and Earl Leggett.

The Packers may be without the services of Bart Starr against the Colts. Starr injured his throwing hand in the first half but his substitute, Zeke Bratkowski, was more successful, full than Unitas' and fired the winning TD pass, a 27-yarder to Billy Anderson.

Jimmy Ties Mark
Rookie fullback Tucker Fredrickson scored three TD's in the last 3:24 of the first half to help give the Giants sole possession of second place in the East. New York quarterback Earl Morrall hit Del Shofner with a 33-yard TD pass and sub Gary Wood fired a 28-yarder to Homer Jones. Jimmy Brown tied the NFL season touchdown record by scoring his 20th and also raced for 142 yards in 27 carries for Cleveland.

Roman Gabriel threw two first-half scoring passes to lead the Rams to their second straight triumph, both coming in the only games Gabriel has started.

The Forty Niners tallied a pair of last period TD's, one on a one-yard plunge by rookie Ken Willard and another on a 34-yard pass from John Brodie to Dave Parks, who set a club record of 62 season catches.

Mike Gaechter recovered a Philadelphia fumble on the Eagle 21-yard line and the Cowboys scored on the next play with Don Meredith passing 21 yards to Frank Clark. Meredith also fired another TD strike and ran eight yards for touchdown.

pointed out that Eckert isn't even especially handsome. "I don't know about some of my other colleagues, but in my book the new commissioner's batting average still is pretty high. Maybe not a perfect 1,000, but I never really expected it would be."

From what I heard, I thought he stated his position clearly, candidly and effectively. From what I saw, I felt he conducted himself properly and left the impression he'll do even better as he goes along.

There was no question Eckert was somewhat nervous and a bit insecure in his unfamiliar surroundings during the baseball meetings in Florida.

"Isn't that natural?" reasoned one major league official. "He knew absolutely none of these baseball people until only a few weeks ago. He was suddenly thrust into a situation that he never before had encountered in his life. You can be sure he would have created a far different impression if he had spoken before 500 military people."

Now about those index cards he kept referring to each time he spoke.

No Better Way
During one day at the meetings, Eckert was called upon to speak before eight different groups. He wanted to be particularly careful to say the right thing before each one. What better way was there for him to do it than to prepare for each speech beforehand?

Ask any good trial attorney and he'll tell you preparedness can be 75 per cent of any case. So Eckert wrote out his speeches on cards.

Fourth Quarter Comeback Kills Detroit Hopes

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco 49'ers came to life with two fourth quarter touchdowns Sunday and pushed the Detroit Lions under the .500 mark for the first time this year.

The win was the fourth straight for the 49'ers and boosted their season record to 7-5 while the Lions dropped to 5-6-1.

The rugged Detroit defense held San Francisco to a first period field goal, while Amos Marsh had powered the Lions into the lead with his devastating running.

San Francisco's field goal, a 14-yarder by Tommy Davis, had given the 49'ers a 3-0 lead in the first period before Marsh began his running attack which netted a total of 110 yards by the end of the game.

Marsh scored the first Lion touchdown by blasting 20 yards around left end. A little later in the second period he went 14 yards up the middle to put the ball on the San Francisco half-yard line. Quarterback Milt Plum then sneaked it over for the touchdown to give Detroit a 14-3 halftime lead.

Kermit Alexander got San Francisco rolling on the first play of the fourth period when he plucked one of Plum's passes and carried it to the 37 yard line of the 49'ers.

Then John Bordie, enjoying one of his best years as a pro, connected on a pass to Bernie Casey on Detroit's 34 and fired a touchdown pass to Dave Parks from there.

The other Buffalo TD came on a 74-yard pass from Daryle Lamonica to Bo Robinson.

Buffalo coach Lou Saban played Lamonica in the first half and regular quarterback Jackie Kemp in the second. This was done to keep both signal-callers sharp for the title game.

Houston scored on a four-yard plunge by Jack Spikes, a 95-yard scoring pass from George Blanda to Dick Compston and a 41-yard field goal by Blanda.

Mikita Scores At Fast Pace

By United Press International
Stan Mikita collected a pair of three-goal "hat tricks" over the weekend to enable the Chicago Black Hawks to take over first place in the National Hockey League.

After getting three goals as the Hawks trounced the Boston Bruins 10-1 Saturday night, Mikita came back with three more Sunday night to help Chicago gain a 6-2 victory over the New York Rangers.

The Montreal Canadiens, who had been tied for first with Chicago, were held to a 4-4 deadlock by the Bruins to fall point back in second place.

Doug Mohn contributed a goal and three assists to the Hawks' triumph at New York and Bobby Hull added his 17th goal of the season. The other Chicago score came from Phil Esposito. Mikita and Hull each have 28 points for the campaign.

Montreal scored three goals within a two-minute span of the final period to overcome a 3-1 Bruin advantage. Claude LaRose, Bobby Rousseau and Jacques Laperriere were the Canadian marksmen in the third period to give them a 4-3 edge, but Ron Stewart forced the tie with a goal for Boston.

It may be well to remember Abraham Lincoln wasn't exactly the leading man type either. Somehow he managed to struggle along and he became better looking as he went along.

Eckert doesn't look anything like Lincoln. Regardless, it wouldn't be a bad idea to give him half a chance.

Perhaps the crowning criticism of all was the one which

Esky, Holy Name Suffer Lopsided Cage Setbacks

Maroons Rip Escanaba Quint By 82-65 Edge

MENOMINEE — Escanaba's two game victory string came to a sudden stop here Saturday night as the Maroonies forced an impressive 82-65 victory in Great Northern Conference action.

Menominee stunned the previously unbeaten Eskymos in decisive fashion. The Maroons outshot, out-hustled and out-rebounded the invading Escanaba eagles to take control early in the contest.

Menominee pulled away to a 25-15 cushion in the first quarter before the Eskymos battled back with a 21 point surge in the second frame to narrow the gap to 39-36 at the intermission.

That was the end of the Esky threat, however, as the Maroons moved into high gear to build up a 63-48 advantage entering the final frame.

Floor mistakes, coming off Menominee's game-long press, doomed the Eskymos. "We threw the ball away, or bobbed it in one fashion or another, 23 times during the game and that's too much to overcome," Coach Harold Johnson stated following the contest. "We were just dead out there and we couldn't shake it," the Escanaba mentor added.

Menominee got off a whopping 89 shots and hit on 34 of them for 35 per cent, then added 14 of 25 from the free throw line. The Eskymos tallied on 23 of 62 from the court and 19 of 29 from the line.

Jim Uecker paced Menominee with 25 points while sophomore Pat Miller tossed in 20 and freshman Dewey Bell added 16. Four Eskymos reached double figures as Paul Miller and Rick Kutchenberg scored 11, John Boyle and Bernie Larson 10 each.

The Eskymos won the preliminary, 53-44.

Tennessee Tips Rose Bowl Team

By United Press International — The post-season bowl schedule doesn't hit high gear until next week, but the recently defeated Bluebonnet Bowl already has a moral victory over the Rose Bowl.

Sophomore Dewey Warren, who ran for two touchdowns, passed to Hal Wantland for two more and hit Austin Denney with a two-point conversion pass, dived one yard Saturday to score with 39 seconds remaining to give Tennessee a 37-34 triumph over UCLA.

Tennessee plays Tulsa, which finished with a 7-1-2 record, plays in the Bluebonnet Bowl Dec. 18 at Houston against Tulsa, the nation's top passing team with an 8-2 mark.

Carl Takes Jets

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — Carl Adams, a 6-foot, 3-inch, 217-pound linebacker from the University of Oklahoma, was signed Saturday night by the New York Jets of the American Football League. McAdams also was the first-round draft choice of the St. Louis Cardinals of the National League.

Making the trophy presentation will be George Gusick of Iron Mountain, last year's top-honored mentor.

Northern Edged By Bradley In College Action

By United Press International — A look at a rally in the final seven minutes of play for the Purdue Boilermakers to hand the University of Detroit its first defeat of the season, as the Titans headed a list of Michigan schools into action Saturday.

Long Hyatt paced Detroit scorers with 22 points, but that was not enough to stave off a Boilermaker onslaught that followed a 63-63 tie in the game.

Most of the other 12 Michigan teams in action came out better, with seven of them victorious.

Facing the biggest foe was Northern Michigan University, up against highly-ranked Bradley University of Peoria, Ill.

Bradley downed the Wildcats 90 to 78.

Hillsdale had quite a battle to gain its third win of its perfect season, edging Davenport Institute in an overtime affair, 107-105. Marcel McGeehee, who led Hillsdale scoring with 35 points, dunked 11 of the Dales' 35 overtime points. Regulation play ended in a 94-94 knot.

Adrian also remained undefeated, picking up its second win with a 99-73 win after spotting Alma only the opening 2-0 lead. Mike Garrett scored 21 for Adrian while Rick Warmold led Alma with 18 points.

The Adrian-Alma clash was one of two in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

In the other tilt, Olivet outpointed Kalamazoo 84-73 to make the Comets the only other undefeated MIAA team. It was the first game for each school as Gordon Loftis scored 24 for Olivet and Jim Peters hit for 23 for the losers.

The other two MIAA teams also were in action Saturday, with Hope topping Concordia 91-84 behind the 25 points of Clare Van Wieren and Allison Dropping a 91-76 clash in Washburn, Ind.

In other non-conference action, Xavier of Ohio, another basketball power, downed Aquinas handily, 113-83. Northwood won over Ohio Northern 97-81. Central Michigan got past Illinois State 78-61, and Eastern Michigan squeaked by Western Reserve of Ohio, 77-73.

Eastern and Central each held on to perfect season with second wins. Rod Marlatt let Eastern scoring with 28 points while Central's lead was shared by Don Edwards and Bill Yearnd, each with 16.

Tom Rathburn pumped in 34 points for Northwood, fresh from taking title in the Soo Tournament over the Thanksgiving Holiday.

The Celtics suffered numerous ills, a taste defeat.

By United Press International — A pulled hamstring muscle, an injured knee and a case of chicken pox are plaguing the mighty Boston Celtics, defending champions of the National Basketball Association.

Superstar Bill Russell has the pulled hamstring. Scoring star Sam Jones has the bad knee. Woody Saunders, who is suing the NBA on an antitrust charge, has the chicken pox.

The relentless Cincinnati Royals, led by Oscar Robertson's 31 points, pounced on the Celtics Sunday night for a 108-99 victory that took the Royals down to the lead of the Eastern Division. Boston still leads by two percentage points.

Crusaders Bow To Ishpeming In Home Stand

The undermanned Holy Name Crusaders, unable to overcome a tremendous handicap of inexperience, were mopped up to the tune of 80-38 by the Ishpeming Hematites in a game at the Holy Name gym Saturday night.

Coach John Butrymowicz again tried every possible combination of personnel against the Hematites but it was futile. Ishpeming was in complete command throughout the game, dominating the rebounding, shooting and ball handling.

The Crusaders tied the score at 2-2 on a field goal by Greg Brandt in the early going, but Ishpeming pulled away to an 11-2 margin before Holy Name scored again. It was 23-10 at the end of the first quarter.

Coach Duane Phillips used 13 Ishpeming players and nine of them contributed to the scoring total. Setting the pace was speedy guard Bill Zhlukic who headed a fast break attack with 11 field goals and added two free throws for 24 points.

Paul Valentini was the only other Hematite in double figures with 14.

Brandt led the limited Holy Name scoring efforts with 10 points.

Ishpeming rattled Holy Name's defenses with a barrage of 31 field goals, shooting at a 53 percent pace on 17 of 32 in the first half. The Hematites added 18 of 31 free throws for the game, while Holy Name tossed in 10 of 17 from the foul line. The Crusaders hit on 9 of 31 shots for 29 percent in the first half.

In the jayvee preliminary the Hematites scored a 55-32 victory.

The Crusaders return to action Tuesday night in a home stand against the Gladstone Braves.

Poles Line Up With Moscow, Rap Red China

WARSAW (UPI)—The Polish Communist party Friday for the first time bitterly attacked Communist China and lined up firmly with Moscow in the Sino-Soviet split.

The statement immediately aroused speculation among Western observers here that the Soviet Union was planning definite action against Red China, perhaps, as suggested in recent West Berlin reports, a complete break.

An editorial in the official newspaper of the Polish Workers' Communist party, Trybuna Ludu, accused the Chinese of splitting the world Communist movement. It charged:

—The Chinese refused to let other Communist states, including the Soviet Union, help North Viet Nam and the Viet Cong.

—The Chinese refused a world Communist summit conference to discuss common policy toward the Viet Nam question.

—The Chinese have not uttered "a single word how the Chinese Communist party intends to help the Vietnamese nation."

—Instead of working for Communist unity against imperialist aggression, they have tried to make the main task of communism "the struggle against Khrushchev revisionism."

Car And Truck Production To Hit 11,100,000

DETROIT (UPI)—Car and truck production this year will total about 11,100,000, Ward's Automotive Reports said Friday.

The industry publication said the robust economy indicates that auto production will "maintain its current high level into 1966."

Chevrolet will produce its three millionth vehicle of 1965 next Tuesday despite a strike at Flint, Mich., Ward's said. Chevy is the first brand ever to reach the three-million mark in a calendar year.

Car output this week will total 254,612, Ward's said, up from 215,787 during the holiday curtailed previous week. Truck production this week was estimated at 38,825 compared with 29,508 last week. This week a year ago the industry produced 220,668 cars and 36,061 trucks.

Twenty-three car assembly plants were scheduled to work today including 10 General Motors facilities and 13 owned by Ford.

November new car sales totaled about 800,000, Ward's said, compared with the all-time record of 842,540 in October.

Deputy Wounded In Benton Harbor Holdup Is Weak

BENTON HARBOR (UPI)—Elton Stover, 55, one of two Benton County deputies shot during a bank holdup, remained in a critical condition and under intensive care in Mercy Hospital today.

Stover and Deputy Gary Mitchell, 28, who suffered lesser wounds, were shot by two bandits, one of them wielding a submachine gun Friday in the $25,644 holdup of the Farmers and Merchants Exchange National Bank branch at Fairplains Plaza.

Under arrest were Roy Bowen, 41, and Not Perez, 43, both of Chicago, who were captured in a road blockade in Indiana the same day of the holdup.

Labor Officials Try New Tack On Jobless Puzzle

By WILLIAM J. EATON
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Labor Department taking a new tack in its attack on unemployment, is putting more emphasis on building the supply of able workers, less on increasing the demand for their services.

Government manpower experts took another look at the jobless to see why they have not been able to find work even though business is booming and employment is at a record peak.

They discovered what Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz calls "the rule of two and three." Briefly, this means that unemployment among Negroes is twice as high as it is among whites and teenage joblessness is triple the national average.

On the other hand, the jobless rate for married men has dipped to 2.1 per cent for the first time since the Korean war era a dozen years ago.

Near Labor Shortage
This is virtually a labor shortage level and there have been scattered reports of companies searching for workers—especially in engineering, construction and other skilled occupations.

Wirtz believes that emphasis on the overall unemployment rate—figures at 4.3 per cent of the labor force in October—is sure to distort the real picture.

He said this figure includes an "irreducible minimum" of 2.5 per cent that occurs when newcomers enter the labor force and others shift jobs. Another five-tenths of one per cent, Wirtz said, simply "lacks what it takes" to be hired.

Full employment will be a reality when the jobless rate goes down to 2.5 to 3 per cent, he said. The battle is half over because the figure has dropped from around 7 per cent in 1960-61 to the present 4.3 per cent.

Different Methods
"Another net gain of about a million jobs—over and above the increase in the work force—will bring us over the target," he declares.

The question: How to get those million jobs? The answer from liberal economists would be to put a little more steam into the economy to soak up 1 million more employed. Conservatives might reply that only additional training and education should be provided to help these jobless find a niche they did not qualify for now.

Wirtz's approach borrows a bit from each camp. There is no question, he says, that the principle full employment policy is to have a strong economy to produce the maximum number of jobs.

"But more jobs, important as they are, won't be enough," he adds. "Meeting the employment problems which exist today is going to require labor supply as well as labor demand measures."

Economic expansion, Wirtz predicts bluntly, is not likely to cut into the jobless rank in any substantial way. For one reason, the administration fears that too much expansion would lead to inflation.

Selective Measures
"The necessary improvement will have to come from measures aimed directly at these areas of concentrated unemployment," he said, in referring to jobs for Negroes and youths.

Specifically, Wirtz has in mind the anti-poverty program run by the Labor Department—the Neighborhood Youth Corps. Congress earmarked $254 million during the current fiscal year to set up projects for helping needy youngsters find part-time jobs so they can finish school. Since it was started earlier this year, federal funds totaling $245 million have been allocated for 1,229 such projects. They have provided 134,102 jobs—principally in welfare agencies, hospitals or local government agencies.

He also is referring to the Manpower Development Program which has $441 million to spend this year on training projects. This provides funds for schooling of jobless workers and on-the-job training under federal auspices.

Season Of 1965 Best On Record In Forest Fires
LANSING (UPI)—The 1965 forest fire season now officially "closed" was the best on record with only 2,910 acres burned, the State Conservation Department has reported.

The department and the figure better the previous all-time low set in 1960 by 68 acres and marks a turnaround from last year when forest fires charred 18,108 acres in Michigan.
